

A response to the objections to the message I am proclaiming...

October 16, 2007 (3:54am).

Thank You Father Yah for this day. Thank You for all the miracles You are performing in my midst.

True, how truthful it is that I have known the things that I now proclaim since 1985, but, unfortunately I have failed to act according to the knowledge imparted to me by the Ruach of Yahuweh or Holy Spirit.

I have failed to totally and completely allow Yahuweh to take control of my life. I have reserved my way of doing things to please myself and others.

These are the sins that have made havoc out of my life and the life of my loved ones for which I have been convicted and dealt with by the Holy Spirit.

I have repented. I will not turn back and pick up my old life again. From now on I will follow Him wherever He leads me not looking to the rewards but looking up to Him. May His will be done in my life regardless of the cost to me.

October 17, 2007 (5:49am).

Blessed be Your names Yahuweh and Yahshua! Blessed be Your names for ever. I come to You this morning with thanksgiving in my heart to worship You.

Father Yah, I am willing to shout the Truth of Your Word no matter what's the cost. From the beginning of time You have raised Your messengers to shout this Truth.

And from the beginning of time Your messengers have been rejected and accused of wrong doing. I pray, give me Your strength to walk and follow You.

On September 15th You touched me once again and showed me my transgression. What transgression? My willful entanglement with the world.

I had neglected my call. I had compromised my self. I had fallen and my spirit was asleep. You gave me the power to repent and you restored my spirit.

You have waken me up and I pray never to fall asleep again. No matter what's the cost I refuse to pick up my old life again.

I know in my heart that You have called me to be Your spokesman. The enemy has silenced me long enough but in Your mercy You have delivered me from the grip of the enemy and ready me to obey my call.

So here I am, Father, send me. No matter what's the cost I am willing to obey You and speak Your Word regardless anything that comes against me.
